

This state chart describes the steps necessary to create a new User Profile for a new User. The user must define what his master username and password will be. This profile will store all the data that the user wishes to enter into the system in a single text file.

